NEWSY NOTES

FROM ESTILL SPRINGS.

Attention tennis players of Kentucky! You are indeed in danger of losing the Tennis Championship to the Queen City. There has been a renewal of interest in this game lately and the awakening promises to be worth something.

Mr. Riddell has received many letters from over the State. From Danville, Somerset, Lexington, Covington, Louisville, etc., Tennis Week is going to be a real winner this year. The pride of Kentuckians is up in arms and Miss Adele Kruse of Cincinnati will have to come in proper shape if she carries that handsome silver trophy home with her for keeps this year. Mr. George B. Eager of Louisville, will have to come back in fine trim, thank you, or that athletic Mr. R. A. Holden, who has a leg on the cup, will make him sit up at a strict attention. Mr. Holden is, if you are not 'vamp' in new World, the 'Tennis World,' one of the best in the United States. He made a most enviable record last year in the National Tournament.

Miss Backrow of Louisville, made some really brilliant plays last year and her reason for not bring the silver trophy back to Louisville was, not a lack of scientific playing, but her length of arm was not that of Miss Kruse.

There is, it is whispered, to be a few good Tennis players of Frankfort up here for the Tournament. One will have any number of friends here to "root" for her if she consents to enter. Somerset and Richmond will also have good players and Louisville will have its delegation to pull for Miss Backrow.

Besides this game there is the big German to be danced that week. This will be given on either Thursday night or Friday. In the meantime what's the matter with loyal Kentuckians getting together and boosting a candidate—for the time is short and art is

CONSUMPTION

There the crowds are increasing daily and the chickens are roosting higher. On Saturday the number of guests were increased by Mrs. Henry Embury and Miss Dorothy Embury of Louisville, Miss Cora Belle Embury, Miss Majorie Embury and Mr. Cecil Embury, also of Louisville. Mr. G. C. Cross, of Louisville, is here the guest of Mr. Cecil Embury.

It takes a very energetic person to walk to the Iron well before breakfast and the very lazy have this brought to the table by the waiters. There's something in the air that makes letter writing a bore pleasure—and we take much pleasure up here in the mountains of Old Kentucky.

Mr. Louis Thompson, Mr. Neal Thompson, son and daughter, of Richmond, Ky., motored down Saturday and will remain several days. Mrs. Neale and daughter, Mrs. Mary Neal Thompson, of Richmond, have been here several days.

Those at the Springs who have entered into the Tennis Tournament are: Mr. Wallace Embury, Jr., Miss Dorothy Embury, Mr. Cecil Embury, Miss Gladys Rodman, Miss Lorian Nourse and Mr. Ned Lane from Sandford, Fla.

There is a funny rivalry going on between those who came here to imbibe freely of the Sulphur Springs. So far the championship is held by a lady—who yesterday drank 55 glasses in one day.

Mr. John W. Rodman and family are now comfortably located in the cottage here. They came here last Saturday evening.

Attorney E. S. Joutet of Winchester, Leonard Redwine of Jackson, Hugh Riddle and G. W. Flenor, are spending a few weeks at the Springs.

Mr. Clyde Smith is again with us for the week end. Mr. Smith is in business at Beattyville.

Mrs. Bell and children of Louisville, will arrive here next week and remain a fortnight.

It's a happy, jolly set here and there is something on tap every moment of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Robards of Louisville, are spending several days here.

Taken Up.

There came to my place near Gum Springs on Walnut Meadow, and Paint Lick pike, on May 18th a red yearling steer, weight about 650 lbs. Owner can have same by proving property and paying all charges. B. B. Reynolds, Paint Lick, Ky. R. R.

Labor Versus Idleness.

There is no blight like the blight of idleness. It is in the unworked garden that weeds grow. It is in the stagnant water that disease germs awaken to horrid life. It is in the calm that mariners lose heart, and from the spent battlefields pestilence, more dreaded foe than the red carnage of war. Ennui falls upon a brave heart as prostrated peace falls upon a true soldier. Ennui is like a long-winded, amiable, but watery-headed friend who drops in to see us and tries to please and soothe every nerve, stands out like porcupine quills and we long for the advent of an enemy. Ennui is like being forced to eat meat without salt, or to drink tepid water. Labor, on the contrary, it is remunerated labor, is a friend with grit and endurance in his makeup. It comes to see us in a wind visits the forest, and sets all our faculties stirring, as the wind ruffles the tree-tops. It salutes our meat and spices our drink.

Notice.

To all trespassers, black and white. All spontaneous and blackberry pickers are notified to keep off the old Gentry farm. Ju-6-4 J. H. GENTRY.

New Law

A few days ago the new mechanic law passed by the recent Legislature went into effect and makes a radical change in dealings between owners and contractors and material dealers. In the past the material dealers have been so protected by the law that it made little difference whether the contractor was financially responsible or not and credit was given for the asking. Under the new law, however, the material dealer will have to be as careful in granting credit as dealers in any other line of business.

Claim Capitol Site.

The heirs of the late Judge Harry Innis, who donated the site of the old capitol building at Frankfort, have put in a claim for the recovery of the old site. They claim that the site was deeded to the State by Judge Innis on the condition that it be used as a State Capitol, but if it ever ceased being used for that purpose it was to revert to his heirs. Now that the new Capitol is being used, the heirs claim the old property, and will make a legal fight for it. It is worth something like a quarter of a million dollars.
